

UNIVERSITY OF MUMBAI

Press note

Date – 5th September 2014

MU to start ‘SINDHU SWADHYAY SANSTHA’

Marine education will strengthen the nation community and economy

Mumbai – While ushering the young students into self reliance in the various fields, University of Mumbai had overcome with the new institute called ‘SINDHU SWADHYAY SANSTHA’ inaugurated by Hon’able minister of industry and ports shree. Narayan Rane at Kalina campus. MU will bring glory to the nation by providing best of the seafaring professionals to the shipping industry, nationally and internationally raising the standards of seafaring professionalism to higher levels. Even Marine education will strengthen the nation community and economy as it has a broader scope.

On the inaugural ceremony, hon’able minister Shree Narayan Rane said, “This institute will play the vital role in the development of trained human resource. students will pursue their educational objectives. Maritime studies will help the social and cultural side of the human and water relationship and also it will develop konkan region, coastal areas and ports, in this field of marine education there are lots of job opportunities and these institute will be the best platform for student’s.

Hon’able Pro Vice Chancellor Dr. Naresh Chandra, Director B.C.U.D Dr. Rajpal Hande and Registrar M.A Khan were present on this auspicious occasion.

Leeladhar Bansod, Deputy Registrar (PR)